Man's Thoughts Can't Feed on Generalities
The True School Goal

A budding columnist from a far-off mountain retreat sends me a collection of manuscripts, and in the accompanying letter he explains:

"My real interest is in encouraging meditation. So few people take time to think. Features that challenge intelligence have popular appeal. This type article is original and distinctive."

But I didn't buy this column. Generalities are a dime a dozen. And generalities are the chief stock-in-trade of the "thought" columns.

The woods are full of high school essayists who, literally speaking, refuse to grow up. They refuse, for instance, to recognize that contemporary world may begin with a general statement but almost immediately must produce hard facts and a conclusion sharpened on the grindstone of experience.

It is for this reason that almost every newspaper editor and columnist in America has behind him a long apprenticeship of reporting and unromantic digging up of unamusing facts. Westbrook Pegler, now a columnist of savage rhetoric, was for years a famous reporter, correspondent, and sports writer. The younger of The Star's syndicated columnists, George E. Sokolsky, has a similar newspaper background, except for sports.

The apprentice-trained writer may hand you at first an innocent-looking generality but you can be certain that behind him he carries a club of facts with which to bludgeon through to his point. And without that club the writer of mere generalities is a hapless pilgrim lost on the treacherous trail of words.

In his release to county newspapers dated May 27 Commissioner of Education A. W. Ford pointed out that 90.5 per cent of all Arkansas students attended a normal nine-month term during this school year — being 90.7 per cent for white students and 90 per cent for Negroes.

Further along in this particular statement Mr. Ford enlarged on something he mentioned to me in Little Rock last November when the two of us were serving on the Joint Tax Revision Committee. Back then when he was merely deputy commissioner in the Department of Education he said:

"We have permitted our goal in public education to be misstated. It is absurd to say, for instance, that all students everywhere are to be guaranteed identical facilities for the obvious reason that students residing in the largest and richest districts always will have more than those in some of the poorer areas. Our true goal in public education is to guarantee certain minimums below which no district may be permitted to fall."

I quote the above from memory. But here are Commissioner Ford's exact words on the same subject in a newspaper release of May 27:

"A normal term of school is only one objective. Another important objective is that of providing an appropriate program in all districts of the state. When we speak of equal facilities or appropriate programs we do not necessarily mean identical offerings. For example, it would not be practical to teach printing in most schools of the state. However, there are a few schools which can and should offer printing."

Swim Classes Scheduled at Hope Pool

Registration for beginner classes in Red Cross swimming will be held at the Hope Municipal Swimming Pool, Monday and Tuesday. This class is for beginners only, ages 8 years up. No one will be admitted to a class after the first day of classes, so be sure to register Monday.

Other classes for beginners will be held later in the summer, so if you are attending Vacation Bible school for the next few weeks, you may enroll in a later class.

Junior Life saving classes will start soon for boys and girls, aged 12-18 years, and all interested persons should contact Mrs. Hammons at the pool.

The Red Cross is happy to announce that Donald McQueen, who is a registered water safety instructor, will be instructor again this year.

Navy, Marine Air Force to Be Doubled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Navy Robert B. Anderson said today the Navy and Marine air arms will more than double their jet aircraft strength in the next two and one half years although the total of planes in service will remain at about the current figure, 9,941.

He told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee that 18 per cent of Navy and Marine aircraft now are jetpowered, and that the figure will rise to 37 per cent by December, 1955, under present plans.

The Navy secretary was the lead-off witness from the Pentagon's top command at the subcommittee's hearings on the $36,100,000 military appropriations budget asked by the Eisenhower administration for the 12 months starting July 1.

Of this total, the Navy is slated to get $9,650,695,000, a reduction of $1,717,187,000 below what former President Truman proposed.

The Eisenhower administration has cut five billion dollars altogether from the military appropriations recommended by Truman in January. These cutbacks have run into criticism in Congress and the present hearings to run all week, afford an opportunity for the Pentagon to detail its side of the dispute.

Anderson said he asked for $10,100,000,000 for the Navy when he reviewed the Truman budget after assuming his job in January but Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson cut this to $9,650,695,000.

The secretary said that, "in the light of conditions as we know them," the final sum "will provide a sound and adequate program."

However, he indicated strongly the reduction had been accomplished by deferring some needed programs, and said "eventually a more complete shipbuilding replacement program must be started in order to maintain the striking power of our navy."

The Air Force bore the brunt of the five billions of cutting by the Eisenhower administration.

Many Democrats and some Republicans in Congress have voiced opposition to the reduction, but Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.), a veteran of such money battles, predicts Eisenhower will have his way.

Wilson, at whom most of the opponents' criticism has been heaped, has asked for a chance to explain in public the reasons behind the cutback decision. Some critics have called for Wilson's resignation and demanded to know what role the joint Chiefs played in reaching the decision.

Leadoff witnesses today are Adm. William M. Fechteler, retiring Navy chief, and Secretary of the Navy Anderson.

Final Rites Today for B. E. Frazier

Funeral services for Billy Eugene Frazier, 31, who died Friday in a Hope hospital, were to be held at 3 p.m. today in Herndon-Cornelius funeral home chapel. The body will be taken to Lufkin, Texas, for burial.

Besides his wife and son, Henry Gene Frazier, and his mother, Mrs. J. Castle of Hope, he is survived by six sisters and three brothers.

Facts About the Coronation in London Where Everything Is Set Except the Weather

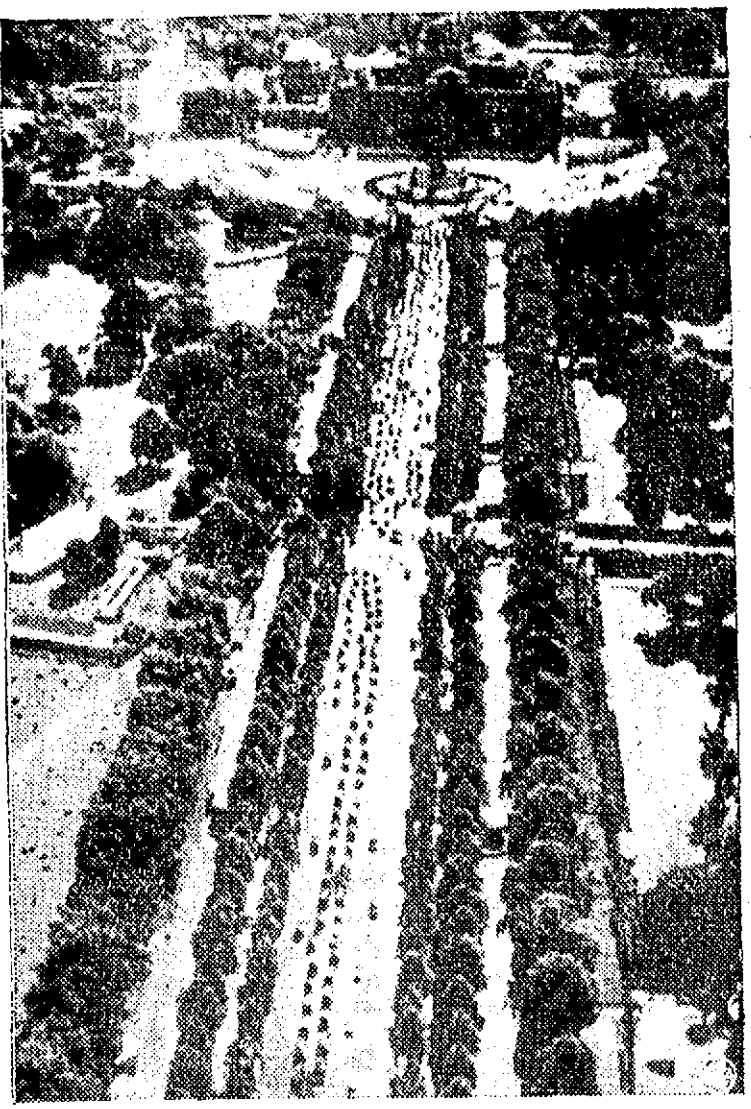

By HAL BOYLE

LONDON (AP) — Coronation side-lights:

Everything has been rehearsed for Britain's mighty moment Tuesday, the crowning of her "queen," everything except the weather, but including the horses.

The horses that will take part in the great cavalcade have been as carefully groomed for their roles as the people. The only things spontaneous about a coronation are the cheers.

There are some 60 horses in the royal stables now, many of them landed by private owners for the event. For weeks their grooms have been accustoming them to loud noises so they won't become unnerved on Coronation Day. As they pass through lanes of shouting Englishmen, an experience most British horses never undergo in their lifetime.

Local Group Attends Garden Club Convention

Mrs. C. P. Tolleson, Mrs. Lahroy Spates of the Iris Club, Mrs. Steve Carrigan of the Gardenia Club, Mrs. Graydon Anthony of the Lilac Club, Mrs. Bernard Dunn, Mrs. Henry Fenwick, Mrs. A. L. Willis and Mrs. Eldridge Forby of the Nandina Club attended the State Federation of Garden Clubs Convention held at Arkansas State Teachers College, Conway, May 29-30.

New officers elected at the session were Mrs. Bruce Anthony of El Dorado, president, Mrs. Billy G. Wilson of Hot Springs, Southwest District vice-president, Mrs. S. E. Appleton of Fort Smith, secretary, Mrs. George Kelly of Little Rock, treasurer.

Among the social affairs attended by the group was a tea at the home of Mrs. Nolen M. Irby, a luncheon and banquet held in the ASTC cafeteria, a breakfast and a trip to the Hill's sisters home to see over 200 orchid plants in bloom.

Mrs. C. P. Tolleson reported for the Hope Federation at a breakfast held in the dining room of the Bachelor Hotel. An outstanding speaker at the convention was Miss Willie Lawson who spoke on "Arkansas Highways Beautification."

Next year's convention will be held at Henderson State Teachers College, Arkadelphia.

Little League Field Readied for Playing

Construction is under way on the new Little League Baseball field just southeast of Fair Park. Several trees have been taken down and some of the leveling has been done. Due to the recent heavy rains, work has been hampered.

The field is expected to be ready for play on the 22nd of June. That is the date that has been tentatively set for the opening of the Little League season. Lights have to be put up but if the weather continues to be fair this work can be done within the next three weeks.

The lot, which consists of one city block, was bought and donated to the city for recreation purposes by the Club.

Court Returns Cigarette Tax Case

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today sent back for a new trial the case of an Arkansas County cafe operator whom a jury had absolved of responsibility in the ownership of a quantity of untaxed cigarettes.

The Court commented that the interest of Milton Holmes in the cigarettes could have been construed as "more than the attributes of a good Samaritan."

The cigarettes, the Court said, were found in a wrecked automobile belonging to Holmes. The driver at the time of the accident was an employee of Holmes, Lula Mae Kandy.

Novis Commissioner Horace Thompson, who said there were 12 cartons of cigarettes without Arkansas tax stamps in the car, sued Holmes and the woman for legal penalty of $25 a package or a total of $3,000.

An Arkansas Circuit jury returned a verdict in favor of both defendants. Thompson appealed.

The Court affirmed the jury's verdict in favor of the employee because, it said, certain instructions of the trial judge which had been objected to in her case had not been abstracted by Thompson's attorney.

But the Court said the trial judge erred when he told the jury it must be convinced that Holmes knew the cigarettes did not bear Arkansas tax stamps before it could convict him.

The Court said that Lula Mae

Father of Illegitimate Child Jailed

On May 29, Circuit Judge Lyle Brown sentenced Alvin Sid Sanders, a Hot Springs Negro, to one year in the Arkansas Penitentiary for failure to maintain, provide, and support his illegitimate minor child, which has been a recipient for the past 3 years of aid for Dependent Children through the Hempstead County Welfare Office.

This man had 2 years ago been prosecuted in the Municipal court in Hope, had promised to support this child, and in May, 1951, County Judge C. Cook in a County Court proceeding, determined that he was the father of the child and ordered him to support the child, which he had failed to do.

In both cases, Sanders had stated he would take care of his child, but never did, and it continued to be supported by the taxpayers through the Welfare Office.

This prosecution brought by Prosecuting Attorney G. W. Lookadoo and his Hempstead County Deputy, Royce Weisenberger, with the assistance of the Hempstead County Welfare Office, was based on Act 294 of 1953, which makes it a felony punishable by a sentence in the penitentiary for any father of an illegitimate child to fail, neglect or refuse to maintain, provide and support his illegitimate child.

Act 93 of 1953 provides that "any husband who is physically and mentally able to work who shall wilfully and without good cause abandon his pregnant or invalid wife and/or children and shall fail to provide properly for her or their support, including medical care and attention, shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof, shall be confined in the State Penitentiary for a period of time not less than one (1) year nor more than three (3) years."

Mr. Weisenberger said that an increasing number of prosecutions with the view of punishment of the delinquent fathers by imprisonment would be instituted soon in an effort to lessen the heavy load on the Welfare Department of children with fathers who are able to support them but who do not.

Awards Given to Yerger Graduates

Friday night, at Hammons Stadium, 43 members of the graduating class of the Henry C. Yerger High School received diplomas which were awarded by Supt. James H. Jones.

The Commencement Address was delivered by Mrs. Vivian T. Hogwood, head of English Department, Dunbar High School and Junior College, Little Rock. Special music was provided by the Junior Class Chorus, directed by Mrs. E. M. Sperraman.

Principal W. V. Rutherford presented the following awards to members of the graduating class:

Scholarships: Sheward Williamson, all-expense paid scholarship to Grumbling College, Grumbling, Louisiana; Dorothy J. Slaughter, third honor scholarship of $100 to AM&N College, Pine Bluff; Jewel Dean Gilkie, $185 scholarship to Volvatex Heavily College, Little Rock; Rosie Brandon and Mary Pillar Ward, work scholarships to AM&N College, Pine Bluff. These scholarships have the potential value of covering all expenses at the college.

Awards: Novis Williamson and Bernard Moses, Leadership Awards a copy of Williamson H. Danforth's inspirational book, "I Dare You."

Novis Williamson and Sheward Williamson, the Babe Ruth Good Sportsmanship Award, which was determined by the faculty.

Novis Williamson, $500 from father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Williamson and $25 from Prof. L. A. Clark, in recognition of receiving first honor and conducting herself creditably in her school relationship.

Albert Graves, president of the school board, and George P. Newbern, Jr., were present. Mr. Graves made a short talk.

T. A. Hamilton, mathematics teacher of Yerger, who is retiring after 48 years of service as a classroom teacher, was honored with a gift presented to him by Supt. James H. Jones in behalf of the School Board and Supt. Jones, and Prof. E. N. Glover, in behalf of the Negro teachers of Fulton, Hope, Well, Shover Street and Yerger High School.

This is the highest rating given to schools by the State Department of Education.

Kids Kick Off Playground Season With Parade

Several hundred people lined the streets Saturday morning to watch the parade that officially opened the 1953 playground season. They also ushered in the swimming season. At least 150 boys and girls all dressed up in costumes ranging from monkeys to robot men walked and rode cars, bicycles, and tri-cycles.

Tommy Jones won the season pass to the swimming pool for having the most unique costume, and Joe Mason won the pass for having the best decorated bicycle.

Immediately after the parade a hundred or more boys and girls filled the pool for a free swim.

Crisis Posed as ROKs Threaten to Keep Fighting

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Syngman Rhee reportedly has proposed that President Eisenhower sign a four-point agreement pledging a mutual defense pact and future military and financial help to South Korea if the Seoul government is to drop its opposition to the United Nations truce terms.

Rhee's attitude — and what reply should be made to his proposition — presumably was up for discussion at a special meeting of the National Security Council Eisenhower called at the White House.

An authoritative informant said the South Korean president submitted his program in a message sent to Eisenhower through American Ambassador Ellis Briggs in Seoul. The four points which Rhee insisted Eisenhower must agree upon in advance were reported to be:

1. A pledge to sign a mutual defense pact with Korea guaranteeing the United States will come to Korea's aid in the event the Communists attack again, even if the U. S. were asked to promise promptly and regardless of what the United Nations might do in the event of such an attack.

2. A promise by the United States to undertake continued large-scale military and economic aid to South Korea.

3. Simultaneous withdrawal of all foreign forces, including Communist and United Nations troops, once truce arrangements are completed and prisoners exchanged.

4. Agreement by the United States that it and the United Nations will not try to stop South Korea from uniting the country once truce has been agreed.

The informant said the last point did not mean South Korea contemplates use of military force against North Korea once a truce is reached. But apparently it did not rule out the possible use of military force.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special meeting of the National Security Council gave President Eisenhower an opportunity to discuss with his top military and foreign policy advisers today the critical problem posed by South Korea's rejection of the latest truce terms submitted to the Communists in Korea.

A threat by Syngman Rhee's government to break up any armistice reached on United Nations terms as presented to the Reds a week ago threw glue over what flickering hopes existed that an end to the fighting might be achieved.

The announced purpose of the security council session was to hear a report from Secretary of State Dulles and Foreign Aid Administrator Harold E. Stassen on their 20-day tour of the Middle East and South Asia.

But it appeared to be a virtual certainty that the truce situation would come up for discussion at the meeting of the government's top foreign military planning body headed by the President.

Dulles will report to the public on the trip which he and Stassen made. His department described as a major foreign policy pronouncement the speech Dulles planned tonight (6 p. m. EST) over ABC radio and television and over DuMont television networks with a rebroadcast by NBC (9:30 p. m.) and possibly others in different time zones.

Dulles, secretary of Defense Wilson and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, the Army chief of staff, conferred Saturday with Eisenhower. Declining to give details, the White House said the session was devoted to Korea.

South Korea's ambassador, Yoo Chan Yang, declared on an NBC broadcast that the U. S. was "not backing out."

had driven Holmes' automobile to Hixville and had almost reached Stuttgart on the return trip when the car collided with a truck.

Holmes went to the scene and took charge of the car as well as of the employee's personal property and the cigarette.

The Court said that Holmes' actions and the woman's status as an employee led to "substantial interference" from which the jury could have found that his interest in the cigarettes was more than the attributes of a good Samaritan.

The Court affirmed Mississippi Chancery Court, Oxford District, in holding that Annie R. Miller was not entitled to recover on a note from Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Brown.

The note was executed by the Browns in the early 1920s to Mrs. Miller, who died in 1930.

Mrs. Miller as administratrix of her husband's estate brought suit for balance and foreclosure on property which secured the note. Brown and his wife contended they had paid off the note and showed a release signed by Brown. Mrs. Miller countered that if such a release had been executed, Evans was not mentally competent to execute it and had been in-

Judgment for Infant Upheld

LITTLE ROCK 69—The Arkansas Supreme Court today upheld Jefferson circuit Court in awarding a 15 thousand dollar judgment to an infant child for the traffic accident death of his father.

The judgment was returned by a jury in a suit brought by Mrs. Hazel Lee Holmes, widow of Thomas T. Holmes, who was killed March 18, 1952, when he was struck at Pine Bluff by an automobile driven by Alfred M. Yoder, 20.

The trial judge instructed the jury not to return a verdict in favor of Mrs. Holmes on the ground that there was no showing that she had been legally married to Holmes.

But the judge ruled that the child of a void marriage was legitimate. The jury returned its judgment on behalf of Thomas T. Holmes, Jr., who was born some six months after the elder Holmes was killed.

payment of her wages after she was dismissed as an employee of the company.

The company paid her her final wages but she contended that she was entitled also to a penalty of $354 because the payment was delayed more than a week.

The Court said that Mrs. Roussau had not complied with all the steps necessary to collect the statutory penalty. It commented that "when the penalty is so obviously disproportionate to the actual injury it has always been our policy to hold the plaintiff to strict compliance."

A judgment for $74,280 plus 6 percent interest from last October 3 in favor of Donald Moore of Morrilton against Dennis Cantrell of Conway was affirmed.

Cantrell had appealed from the Faulkner Chancery Court judgment.

The case grew out of what Moore said was an oral contract for aerial cotton dusting in the vicinity of Conway.

Rain Cuts Out Action Along Entire Front

By FORREST EDWARDS

SEOUL 69—American Sabre jets prowling deep in North Korea shut down one MIG and damaged two others today in their first tangle with the Russian-made fighters in three days.

On the ground, a driving rain muddled the 155-mile battlefield and limited action to patrol-sized jobs. In sharp contrast to last week's savage battles, today's ground action was the quietest in 20 days.

The Air Force credited the MIG destruction to Capt. Lonnie R. Moore of Ft. Walton, Fla.

The damage claims were made by Maj. James Jabara of Wichita, Kan., the Korean War's first jet ace, and Lt. William F. Schrimsher of Curley, Ala.

The Eighth Army said the bloody fighting that erupted last week on the Western Front cost the Reds 2,300 killed and 1,047 wounded.

The figures covered the May 20 battles for outposts Carson, Elko, Vegas, Berlin, East Berlin and the Hook.

Meanwhile, the Air Force said it lost only one Sabre jet to red MIGs in May air battles, in which 35 Communist jets were destroyed, but 19 others were lost to ground fire and various causes.

Far East Air Forces headquarters, in its monthly air summary said three thunderjets, one B-29 twin-engine bomber, one mosquito observation plane and one Marine AU fighter-bomber were shot down by communist groundfire. Two Thunderjets, one F94 Starfire night fighter, five Sabres, one Australian Meteor jet and one Marine AU fighter were lost to "other causes," probable engine trouble, probably engine trouble.

Other speakers include Stanford Smith, Atlanta, secretary-manager of the Georgia Press Association and president of Newspaper Association Managers, Inc., Bob Wimberly, advertising and sales promotion manager of the Arkansas Power and Light Co., and Ray Kimball, publisher of the DeQueen, Ark., Daily Citizen.

C. E. Palmer, publisher of the New Era and Sentinel-Record here, will be host at a luncheon session.

heard from the various chairmen. Mrs. R. T. White, treasurer, presented the recommendations from the finance committee.

The Union WSCS meeting will begin at 3 p.m. at the church in June.

The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer being repeated in unison.

Miss Ruggles Complimented at Breakfast Saturday

On Saturday morning at 9 o'clock Mrs. Newton Pentecost entertained with a breakfast in the main dining room of the Barlow Hotel honoring Miss Lucille Ruggles, bride-elect of Robert Eugene Spangh.

Upon arrival Miss Ruggles was presented a corsage of white feathered carnations, tied with white satin ribbon.

Bridal place cards marked the places of the guests. The table covered with white damask held an oblong bowl of mixed summer flowers in pastel shades.

The honoree was presented a salad serving fork in her chosen pattern of silver by the hostess.

ROOM WITH A VIEW—Under Los Angeles' starlit sky, Miss Doughty Anne Bond, 63, retires for the night across the street from her former home. She was evicted for non-payment of what she calls "robbery rent." Her troubles started last February when the frail little old lady tossed her landlord out as he allegedly "invaded" her house. Her rent was then increased from $45 to $75 a month.

DOROTHY DIX

Does Forgiving Pay?

Dear Miss Dix: Why do you always advise wives to forgive erring husbands? I don't think any wife should be expected to take back a man who has been cheating and I certainly don't think she should forgive him, or forget his sin. No wonder so many husbands take advantage of their wives when they know they'll be forgiven. If husbands were given different treatment, perhaps there wouldn't be so many faithless men. Please print this, and in the future be more strict with wives. If my husband had an affair with another woman, I'd sure not forgive him, but make him get out.

Answer: It doesn't always pay to indulge in rash judgments. Women who have no reason to doubt their husbands' loyalty can afford to be snug, but when the tragedy of a faithless mate strikes a home, it isn't easy to abide by the dictates of hurt pride. No one can go through life being adamant in not forgiving. The few who try it end

Queen Knights Two Before Coronation

LONDON (AP) — In her last official action before her coronation Queen Elizabeth II today announced she has knighted two of adopted a six-month-old boy. We both love him, but it is my life that is being changed by him, not my husband's. My husband has been vacationing by himself and plans a trip in the near future. He feels I should leave the baby and accompany him, but I can't shirk responsibility off so easily.

Answer: An adopted child is a mutual responsibility, and since your husband undertakes the obligation as much as you do, he is certainly morally bound to stick to the bargain. Naturally, you can not always run off at a moment's notice leaving a small child, even if you have a trustworthy person to care for him. Your husband is being unfair and selfish in his attitude. You must be warned, however, not to let your devotion to the baby detract from the attention due your husband.

Britain's most popular sports figures and handed ranks and honors to some 4,000 other Britons.

The sporting greats made "hair" were World Champion Jockey Gordon Richards, who may beat the young monarch's horse in the coronation derby Saturday, and Jack Hobbs, grand old man of cricket.

The Queen's honors list, one of the longest in British history, marked her majesty's coronation and her official birthday celebration June 11. It rewarded Britons in all walks of life for service and nobility.

Lord Wootton, wartime food minister, was made a viscount. Three barons, five baronets and 74 knights were named.

It was the first time in British history that a jockey or a professional cricket player was knighted, though amateur cricket star Don Bradman, an Australian, was dubbed in 1949.

Vermonters End Vacation, Start Home

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Vermont's vacationing family, the Lester Parkers, of Middleton Springs, left here today for a side trip before they complete a two-week all-expense paid trip from their home through Arkansas and back.

The family, Lee, Mary, and daughter Jeanne, took off from Adams Field for Chicago this afternoon. They will appear on the "Welcome Travelers" show to tell about their vacation in Arkansas Tuesday and will arrive home Wednesday.

The family was chosen at Arkansas' request by Vermont Gov. Lee Emerson when this state found Vermont was the only state not represented among Arkansas tour groups last year.

During the 1,000-mile trip through Arkansas, the family visited Hot Springs, Crossett, Murfreesboro, Fayetteville, Ft. Smith, Fayetteville, Bull Shoals, the governor's mansion where they spent the night, the capital, and Arkansas aluminum industry.

At Harrison, Lester and Mary Parker of Vermont met Lester and Mary Parker of Harrison. Both Parker families are dairy farmers. Lester owns a 40-head herd in Middleton Springs and the Arkansas Lester has a 100-head herd.

When the Vermonters stop on stage in Chicago for the radio show, the experience won't be new. During their stay in Arkansas they became seasoned veterans of radio press and television interviews.

Traffic Mishaps Bring 228 Deaths

By The Associated Press

The toll of traffic accidents for the Memorial Day holiday week and toll for short of records for related reports might raise it to the figure predicted by the National Safety Council.

Vehicular accidents from 5 p.m. Friday until Sunday midnight cost 228 lives. Deaths accounted for 30 more deaths and 45 died in a variety of accidents during the total to 303.

The safety council had predicted a death toll of 240 on the highways and streets during the 54-hour period.

The record number of Memorial Day deaths from automobile accidents was set at 363 in last year's three-day holiday week end. The bloodiest Memorial Day week end of all was that of 1950 when all accidental deaths numbered 371.

Mother and Son Are Reunited

By The Associated Press

PINE BLUFF, Ark. — A mother and son were getting reacquainted with each other here today after being separated for 30 years. They last were together at a railroad whistle stop when the child was taken from his mother by her husband.

The "boy" is Jack Reese, 30, a captain in the Pine Bluff Fire Department. His mother is Mrs. Robert J. Reese of Blytheville, the former Mrs. Frank Reese.

When Reese was a year old his mother and father were separated. The father took the boy from his mother's arms, and left him with an aunt, Mrs. Eva Logan in Sheridan, Ark.

The boy, who then was called Jack, although he recently found out his real name is William Herschel Reese, lived at Sheridan until he was about 13 when he decided to take out "on his own." He got a job at a sawmill and worked there until he came to Pine Bluff in 1912.

Czechs Face Crisis, Money Value Drops

By The Associated Press

VIENNA, Austria. — The Czechoslovak Communist government has decreed that all men under 60 and women under 50 can be forced to work unlimited hours for the state or community outside of their regular working time.

This became known Monday as workers of Czechoslovak citizens found their savings cut almost to nothing and their buying power sharply reduced by a drastic new currency reform.

The trade union newspaper Prace disclosed that, under a recent parliamentary action, every Czech worker can be called upon to work extra hours whenever "extraordinary difficulties" develop.

This means that a man who works a 48-hour week can be forced either to work unlimited additional hours in his own factory, or he can be sent to work in another plant, or in the fields, or mines, whenever the Communist regime decrees.

Cool, Dry Air Spreading Out

By The Associated Press

Cooler and drier air spread north from the north and humidity of the Memorial Day week end over the upper Mississippi Valley and in range areas of Ohio and Pennsylvania, but it continued hot and humid today in the South.

The slide was sharpest in Upper Michigan. The over night low was 34 degrees at Grand Marais. Sunday's maximum at Houghton was only 47.

Rains and thundershowers dampened the eastern Great Lakes region, Pennsylvania and Virginia. Washington, D. C., had .65 of an inch.

Early morning temperatures in the eastern border states and the eastern rain sector, Presidio, Tex., which landed in 109-degree heat Sunday, got little relief from an overnight minimum of 80.

Profits Tax Arguments to Get Hot

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — For a month the air will be blue with arguments that begin today when hearings open in Congress on the excess profits tax.

At stake: much money and a test of President Eisenhower's leadership. He asked Congress to continue the tax until Dec. 31. Otherwise, it will automatically end June 30.

Congress passed it after the Korean War started to get revenue for rearming, discourage high prices by draining off profits, and keep companies from getting too fat off defense contracts.

What follows is a general explanation of how the excess profits tax works, highly simplified. For the sake of brevity, the tax will be called EPT.

Almost no firm—there are exceptions—with earnings of less than $25,000 a year has to pay EPT. It pays a flat tax of 30 per cent called a normal tax.

Firms with over $25,000 earnings pay that normal tax, plus a surtax of 22 per cent on earnings over $25,000, thus making the regular tax on them—normal tax and surtax combined—52 per cent. In addition, an over $25,000 firm must pay EPT if it earns enough.

The total tax on any firm—regular tax and EPT—is limited to 70 per cent. Corporations can choose any one of three main methods, in figuring EPT, to get the lowest tax on themselves.

In this story a firm, called XYZ, will be used. Its 1952 earnings were $300,000. The regular tax on that $300,000—normal 30 per cent on the full amount and surtax of 22 per cent on $275,000—was $153,000.

Method No. 1—Since the tax limit is 70 per cent, and XYZ has been taxed at a top rate of 52 per cent, it applies the remaining 18 per cent to its $300,000 earnings. Result: $54,000. That's EPT tax. Adding the EPT of $54,000 to the regular tax of $153,000, XYZ's total tax is $207,000. Too high! The firm looks for a lower tax by trying the next method.

Method No. 2—This raises a question: Just what is an excess profit? Excessive over what and when? For comparison, Congress had to find a basis, some period and earnings which might be considered normal or average.

It picked the years from World War II and the start of the Korean War, the years 1946 through 1949, inclusive. Many businessmen claim those years were not normal for them. Some, for instance, say they were just starting in business.

Firm XYZ, trying to determine its average earnings in those pre-Korean years, can choose any three of the four. Naturally, it selects the three most prosperous years to make its post-Korean profits as low, or unexcessive, as possible over its pre-Korean profits. XYZ's earnings in 1946 were $100,000 but $200,000 a year from 1947 through 1949. So it chose those three years—in this case $200,000 a year—as its average pre-Korean earnings.

But the law doesn't let a firm claim the full average, only 85 per cent. In XYZ's case, 85 per cent of $200,000 is $170,000 which is then called the pre-Korean average. Which means: XYZ's $300,000 earnings in 1952 were an excess of $130,000 over its $170,000 pre-Korean average. At this point the law says XYZ can pay 30 per cent of that $130,000 excess. Resulting EPT: $39,000. Adding the $39,000 EPT to the regular tax of $153,000 on its $300,000 earnings in 1952, XYZ's total tax becomes $192,000, or $15,000 cheaper than under Method No. 1.

Most firms use method No. 2 because it happens to work out best for most. Some use still a third method when it gives an even lower tax.

Method No. 3—This is based on invested capital. Say firm XYZ had two million dollars invested in its plant at the beginning of the year. Under the law XYZ takes 12 per cent of the two million dollars, which is $240,000. This is

A LOT OF BOLOGNA—With an assist from five people this 12-foot bologna sausage makes its bow in Cincinnati. On display at Seidman's grocery store, the city's largest bologna was cut up and delivered to the convent of the Little Sisters of the Poor.

Volume Keeps Down Electric, Gas Cost

By JAY AXELBANK

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — You may not know it, but buying natural gas and electricity in Arkansas today is like buying a 5-cent glass of beer.

That's because it costs no more to turn on your radio or light your oven than it did way back when you could still order a big brew for a nickel.

Arkansas' two largest commercial power companies have not had a general rate increase since 1929. How come the price on everything from hamburgers to shoes is much higher?

Simple, say the power firms: Arkansas are buying several times the amount of power they bought 20 and 30 years ago.

So, the gas and electric companies say they can charge what they did 30 years ago despite higher costs and still earn 6 per cent on their investment. Six per cent is the traditional maximum set by the Public Service Commission.

Last year, Arkansas Power and Light Co., which serves 255,000 customers in 61 of the state's 73 counties—generated a record total of 550,000 kilowatts. That is three times the power produced 10 years ago. A. P. L.

The explanation is that Arkansians have gone hog wild on electricity in the last few years. More and more, TV sets, dishwashers, washing machines, electric stoves, refrigerators and waffle irons have been plugged into electric outlets.

That's no fall. More electricity has been required by farmers who installed lamps for chicken raising, electric pumps and water heaters. And, of course, other appliances which farmers once considered luxuries. National statistics show that Arkansas has led the entire nation in rural electrification for the last 15 years.

To meet this booming demand for electric power, AP&L needs more generating plant capacity, that means more fuel.

Here's where the Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Co., enters the picture. The company, which serves about two-thirds of all the natural gas customers in the state, has kept its rates down as more and more Arkansians turn from other fuels to gas.

With AP&L expanding three of its steam generating plants this year, it means more natural gas is needed to heat the steam boilers which in turn power the turbines. These boilers run 24 hours a day, almost 365 days a year.

69 MORE CASUALTIES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department today identified 69 Korean War casualties in a new list (No. 924) that reported 9 killed, 51 wounded, 4 missing, 2 captured and 3 injured.

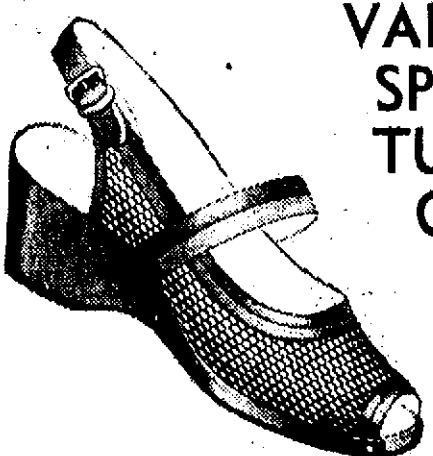

Several species of ants keep uphills to produce a sweet liquid for them, much as men keep cows.

YOUTH KILLED
BLYTHEVILLE (AP) — A 14-year-old Armored boy was injured fatally yesterday when struck by a car as he walked along Highway 137 near here.

State Trooper HUGH Westbrook said Oneal Atchley was killed by a car driven by W. D. Barnett of Blytheville.

he Swedes feed themselves from their own land only because they can import fertilizer and livestock feed.

Congress passed it after the Korean War started to get revenue for rearming, discourage high prices by draining off profits, and keep companies from getting too fat off defense contracts.

What follows is a general explanation of how the excess profits tax works, highly simplified. For the sake of brevity, the tax will be called EPT.

Almost no firm—there are exceptions—with earnings of less than $25,000 a year has to pay EPT. It pays a flat tax of 30 per cent called a normal tax.

Boys State Names Party Officials

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mayors for eight make-believe cities in boys' state were elected yesterday after brief campaigns.

The future citizens also heard from a real mayor about the practical aspects of city budgets and spending.

Municipal governments were the main topic during the second day of the 11th annual week-long study of government being conducted by the American Legion for some 63 Arkansas eleven-year-olds. The camp is being held at Camp Robinson.

Mayor Pratt Remmel, who gave the boys an insight at the costs of running a modern municipality, presented a case to the city to Frank Heinkelmann of McGehee. The McGehee junior won the greatest number of votes in the eight majority race.

YOUTH DROWNS

JONESBORO (UP) — Roy Rign, 17, drowned in a stock pond near here yesterday while swimming with three companions.

Rign's playmates said Rign had shouted for help but that they thought he was joking until he went under before help could reach him.

Legion Team Plays Tomics Here Tuesday

Off to a good start in Southwest Arkansas League play with two straight victories, the Hope Legionnaires are slated to play two league games this week. Both games will be played in Hope at Legion Field with league entries from Texarkana furnishing the opposition.

Tuesday night at eight o'clock the Legionnaires will be host to the Red River Tomics. Last year's contests between these two clubs would indicate that a good game is in prospect.

Friday night at the local field the Day & Zimmerman team, a new entrant in Southwest League play, will make their first appearance.

Fans are still discussing the 10 inning victory of the Legionnaires over Mineral Springs last Friday night. The locals emerged with a 3-2 victory in a hotly contested encounter. Donz Stevens was credited with the win which was clinched in the tenth inning when Gordon Beasley lined a hot single through the box off of Bub Dilly, Mineral Springs relief pitcher.

In the league opener with Nashville the Legionnaires emerged victorious in an easy 18-6 game over the White Sox.

For a while there was no human sound to compete with the shrieking of the storm, then Carlotta's hot whisper came again.

"You really do want to get rid of me, don't you?"

"Don't look at me like that, Carlotta. I haven't done a thing," Larry was definitely scared.

"I was a fool not to see it before. It's Gay, of course. You want to marry Gay?"

"Not Gay. Not Gay," said Larry urgently.

"Yes, Gay."

NOW EVERYBODY'S STUMPED—It looks like a shell-blasted battlefield—and in a sense it is a battlefield. For months townspeople of Newington, N. H., fought to prevent the Defense Department from turning this vast acreage into a $50,000,000 jet air base. But they lost and the government went ahead with its plans, clearing the area of the trees local folk had fought to save. Now, because of manpower and budget cutbacks, Defense Department has abandoned its plans for a base there.

New Speedway Champ Lot Like Oldfield

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Bill Vukovich, winner of a record $89,497.90 first prize in the Memorial Day 500-mile auto race, is going to remind a lot of speed fans of the late Barney Oldfield.

Vukovich chews a big cigar like Barney's and he is an even fiercer competitor. But he doesn't talk as much.

Vukovich headed for New York and a television appearance today but he took along Wilbur Shaw, three time winner of the race, to do the talking.

The new champ suffered visibly last night at the public presentation of his winnings. On top of the cash, he received the Ford Sun liner pace car, free meals for a year, a dog, an elaborate set of tools and assorted trophies. The racing crowd at the traditional victory dinner gave the 44-year-old Fresno, Calif., driver a standing ovation.

A combination of 91 degree heat and fumes from high explosive fuel mixtures took a greater toll than accidents and forced repeated pit

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — Back in 1949 the manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Bart Shotton, gazed anxiously at the bulky, brown-skinned athlete pulling off his uniform across the locker room at Ebbets Field and observed: "He's a natural catcher—he'll be another Bill Dickey some day."

Those who were within earshot of the old-timer glanced questioningly at one another. Was Bart beginning to show "his years?"

After all, that was only Roy Campanella's first full season with the Dodgers, and he wasn't hitting better than around .250 at the time. To mention him in the same breath with Dickey, he of the .314 lifetime average, seemed premature, to say the least.

Four seasons later Shotton is entitled to look up from his fishing down in Florida and taken an extra deep bow. Campanella hit the big show too late in life—he's going on 32 now—to threaten Dickey's exploits over a long span, but who will say that the squat, inquisitive backstop is not, as of now, every bit the equal of the famed Yankee before him or of Gabby Hartnett, probably the greatest of National League catchers, whose record of 37 home runs in a season Campanella appears certain to surpass.

Just in case the 200-pound Negro maintains his present dizzy clip, he comes anywhere near doing so, we have looked up a few vital statistics which might come in handy. Unlike his friend Satchel Paige, Cammy knows exactly when and where he was born—Nov. 19, 1921, in Philadelphia.

He was an all-around athlete in high school, lettering in baseball, football, basketball and track. He was 15 when, in his junior year, the Negro baseball Giants of Philadelphia offered him $50 to catch on week ends. Next stop was the Baltimore Elite Club, and from there on Cammy's life was a travesty of success. He went to Puerto Rico, Venezuela—until the Dodgers signed him in 1946 to play for Nanshua in the New England League.

"This big league stuff is a breeze," he says happily. "What's catching 154 games a year? Why, man, there were plenty of years when I caught 300. Once I caught two in the afternoon and two more that night, with a bus trip and a sandwich in between. Now it's steak every day."

Although he owns a going liquor store in Harlem, Campanella has no intention of settling down to run it when his playing days end. He wants to stay in baseball in some capacity "until they rip this uniform off me." President Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers has promised him a coaching job on one condition, that he keeps his weight where it is now. He would be the first Negro coach in organized ball.

"I think he would make a fine teacher," O'Malley says, "and I believe that the color angle is a thing of the past in baseball."

Another run and in the sixth Greenville Starter Joe Dravel was replaced when the Millers scored three runs on five singles.

Mike McWilliams pitched 5-hit ball to Pine Bluff Sunday as his teammates slammed three Pine Bluff pitchers for 12 hits to lead the Natchez Indians to a 9-2 win. McWilliams pitched runless ball after the first inning when Pine Bluff scored twice.

Natchez Lefty Roger Hanners scored his second shutout and second win Saturday in the 3-0 win over Pine Bluff. Starter Al Schwegman took the loss.

"You must listen to me, Robert," I said. "She had a knife."

Carlotta was gently puzzled. "What knife?"

There was no knife to be seen. "I've got to talk to you, Robert," I said. "I had control of myself by this time."

"I haven't time, Virginia," Robert said. "I've got to get up to the bridge and give them a warning."

"Let me go with you."

He shook his head. "The wind would blow you off the deck. You must stay inside, whatever happens."

"Yes, dear," Carlotta cooed. "Stay here with me and don't get to imagining things. I'll look after you." She gave Robert an understanding glance and raised her eyebrows.

Meridian Is Looking Like a Champion

By The Associated Press

Meridian, with the sore mark of a champion on top pitchers of the Cotton States League, best fielding, top strike-out artists—is the top dog in the League again today, but only by seven percentage points.

The Millers put forth their best two hurlers, both league leaders, as Jimmy Dunay defeated Greenville, 17-1, Saturday night and Bobby Harrison dropped the Bucks, 9-4, last night.

Both wins — Dunay's fifth to no defeats and Harrison's eighth to two — were scored as Natchez defeated the Oceanian, off again champ, Pine Bluff, 3-0 and 9-2.

The two losses to the cellar dwellers dropped Pine Bluff to second place, but only by percentage points.

As a matter of fact, most of the league has developed into a battle of percentage points.

Hot Springs and El Dorado are separated by only five points for sixth place, with Hot Springs in tentative control. Jackson is holding onto fourth place.

Monroe and Natchez hold undisputed places in the standings — Monroe in third and Natchez in the basement.

Monroe, four games behind Pine Bluff, gets a chance to narrow the margin with the series starting at the Judges' home stand tonight.

As to the games themselves, Meridian started off with five runs in the first inning of the 17-1 Saturday night win. Meridian's Bill Lewis slammed four hits, including three doubles, for the power.

Sunday, Harrison who leads the league in strike-outs, hit a 3-run homer in the fourth inning to help overcome a 4-2 margin Greenville had created in the first two innings. Wendall Forbes and Gene Pampella doubled to send home

Hospital Slashes to Be Aired

WASHINGTON (AP)—The possible effect of budget cuts on veterans' hospital and medical programs is due for a thorough airing in the House this week.

There have been reports that a 270 million dollar slash in funds requested by former President Truman for the Veterans Administration would mean closing of six or more hospitals.

The V. A., however, has said new

Accidental Death Toll 12 in State

By The Associated Press

Arkansas had four violent deaths over the Memorial Day weekend, three were traffic fatalities, one was a homicide.

Eight other deaths earlier in the week contributed to a total of 12 for the 7-day period ended at last midnight.

A 64-year-old man died early yesterday from injuries suffered in a car-truck collision at Texarkana late Saturday night. State Trooper Charley Boyd said W. M. Davis of Texarkana, Ark., died about six hours after he was injured.

A 18-year-old boy died in a stock pond about five miles from Jonesboro yesterday afternoon while swimming with two companions. He was Ray Riga, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Riga.

One of the boys, Richard Oswald, 17, who was standing on the shore, said he did not become alarmed when Riga shouted for help, because the boys had pretended several times during the afternoon that they were drowning. Oswald couldn't swim.

Deputy O. C. Johnson recovered Riga's body from about 12 feet of water an hour after the boy went under.

A gun accidentally discharges yesterday during a fishing trip on the North Fork of the Saline River near Benton and took the life of 17-year-old David L. Keene, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. King of Kentucky, Ark.

Sallie County authorities ruled the death accidental. They said the gun discharged while it was being carried by one of Keene's friends, Nelson Rutinson, 17.

The youth died shortly after being hit in the chest.
